

Christine Nefcy, MD, is a seasoned healthcare leader who has provided strategic direction for clinical initiatives and best practice standards for several organizations including Intermountain Health and Munson Healthcare. She is passionate about creating healthy and connected communities and improving gender equality and women's health outcomes.

Dr Nefcy graduated summa cum laude with her bachelor's degree from Bradford College in Massachusetts and earned her medical degree from The Uniformed Services University in Bethesda, Maryland. She is a board-certified pediatrician, and a graduate of the Academy of GE Fellows Program, The Intermountain Health Executive Development Program and the Advanced Program in Healthcare Delivery Improvement. She was also a flight surgeon for the Air Force and retired in 2018 with over 20 years of service.

Dr Nefcy currently resides in Traverse City, MI with her husband, Brian. They have 4 children and a highly energetic labrador, and together, have lived in 6 states and 4 different countries.